Summer Is Here, Be Healthy and Safe!

Who doesn’t want to be outside, sunbathing, swimming, playing catch on the beach or just barbecuing in the backyard? While summer means fun in the sun, make sure you are not getting too much of a good thing. Remember to follow the COVID-19 safety guidelines, wear a mask as appropriate, social distance and socialize in small groups. Following are some tips to keep in mind.

1. Apply sunblock. When outdoors, protect your skin from damage by wearing a hat, sunglasses, and a sunscreen of SPF 30 or higher.

2. Drink plenty of liquids. Drink at least eight 8-ounce glasses of water daily. Talk to your doctor to determine the amount of water that is right for you.

3. Avoid caffeinated and alcoholic beverages. Alcohol, soda, coffee and even tea can leave you dehydrated quickly. Reduce the amount of these beverages.

4. Dress appropriately. Wear loose-fitting clothes in natural fabrics like cotton. Dress in light colors that will deflect the sun and heat.

5. Stay indoors during extreme heat. In high heat and humidity, evaporation is slowed and the body must work extra hard to maintain a normal temperature.

6. Use air conditioning. If you do not have air conditioning in your home, go somewhere that does. A movie theater, the mall, a friend, or relative’s home are all good options.

7. Take a cool shower or bath. This is a good way to lower your body temperature on extremely hot days.

Know the signs of heat stroke (e.g. flushed face, high body temperature, headache, nausea, rapid pulse, dizziness, and confusion). Take immediate action if you feel ill. Talk to your doctor if you have any questions. You can also call our Nurse Advice Line at 1.800.249.3619 (TTY 711) to talk to a nurse any time of day or night, 7 days a week. However, if you have a medical emergency and need help right away, dial 911 or go to your nearest Emergency Room.

Ask the Doctor: Coping With Stress

Q: What is stress?
A: Stress is the body’s physical and emotional response to a demand, change or challenge. A little bit of stress may be healthy and normal to help us stay motivated. Stress can be caused by work, family or health situations – good or bad. Long-term stress can be harmful to your health and relationships. Symptoms may include emotional outbursts or shortness of temper, headaches, muscle tension, sleep problems, and upset stomach. Know your symptoms of stress and triggers - situations that cause you to feel anxious.

Q: How can I manage stress?
A: Recognizing your symptoms and their triggers are the first steps in managing stress. Here are some ways to help you cope with stress:

Plan and Prepare
- Planning and preparing ahead of time will help you be ready to handle tasks and relax. Give yourself enough time and arrive early to appointments.

Live Healthy
- Eat vegetables, fruits, whole grains, low-fat dairy and lean protein. Drink water. Get moderate exercise daily and 7-8 hours of sleep nightly. Avoid drinking too much alcohol or using illegal drugs.

Relaxation Activities
- Do relaxing activities that you enjoy such as walking, reading, playing an instrument, or gardening. Exercising can help release stress and make you more relaxed afterwards.

Seek Support and Help
Behavioral health services are included as part of your L.A. Care benefits. If your stress is unmanageable, schedule an appointment to talk to your primary care physician (PCP). You may be referred for additional help. You can also contact L.A. Care’s behavioral health partner, Beacon Health Options at 1.877.344.2858 (TTY 1.800.735.2929).

Check-In With Your Doctor

Seeing your doctor, even when you are feeling well, is an important part of staying healthy. Your doctor will get to know you and your health needs starting with your very first visit. Just call the doctor’s number on your member ID card to make an appointment. At this first visit, called the Initial Health Assessment (IHA), your doctor will ask you to fill out a form called the Staying Healthy Assessment (SHA). This form helps the doctor learn about your lifestyle such as whether you smoke or eat enough fruits and vegetables.

You should see your doctor at least once a year. During the COVID-19 pandemic, many people delayed visits to their doctor. Summer is a great time to check in with your doctor to make sure you are up to date on needed tests and vaccines. If you have not seen your doctor in the past year, or are new to L.A. Care, call your doctor today!
Sometimes going to the doctor can be stressful. To make the most of your appointment, try these easy tips.

1. Come prepared. Before your appointment, think about what you need during this visit. Make a short list of your concerns and questions. It may be helpful to show this to your provider.

2. Be flexible. Providers have many responsibilities. Sometimes they may run late because they are seeing another patient. You may have to wait a little longer before seeing the doctor. Try to understand – the office is busy and will get to you when they can.

   Tip: If you’re short on time, try asking for the first appointment available in the morning.

3. Speak up! Did you get everything you needed at this visit? Did you ask all your questions? Don’t be afraid to ask your provider to repeat or re-explain something. Ask about your options and leave with a plan for your health concerns.

   Tip: Providers sometimes take notes on a computer during your visit. Don’t worry. They are still listening!

Your provider’s office may look a little different due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Before your appointment, ask what they are doing to keep their patients safe.

L.A. Care Health Plan and Blue Shield of California Promise Health Plan, in partnership with USC Pharmacy, recently offered 16 free COVID-19 vaccine clinics in high-need areas near their Community Resource Centers. The drive-thru and walk-up vaccine clinics, which ran from April 7 through May 1 by appointment only, were open to L.A. Care and Blue Shield Promise members, and to the public. The vaccine clinics were held outdoors and followed safety guidelines recommended by public health officials.

The resource centers – located in hard-hit communities such as East Los Angeles, Pacoima, Lynwood and the Antelope Valley, where many of the health plans’ members live – collaborated with local churches, community colleges and community-based organizations to assist in administering up to 1,000 vaccines per clinic.

“Every day we are making more progress to end the pandemic – and the light at the end of the tunnel is getting brighter,” said John Baackes, CEO of L.A. Care Health Plan. “But we are not quite there yet. We cannot let our guard down, and we must get shots in the arms of those who have been most impacted by this pandemic.”

The vaccine clinics are among several free events hosted by the Community Resource Centers in 2021. While the resource centers were closed for most of the winter due to a COVID-19 surge, they reopened in May – by appointment only – to provide much-needed services once again to members and the entire community.
